Gifts-Give.com Announces Fundraising Campaign

Lake Forest, Calif. – 09/16/09 – The Girl Scouts use cookies to make money. Now, other causes can use a variety of gifts to raise funds for their missions. Gifts-Give.com is partnering with various charities and nonprofit organizations across the country to provide them with a way to enhance their fundraising efforts.

Supporters of a nonprofit can shop at Gifts-Give.com to purchase flowers, jewelry, handbags, books, magazines, clothing, home and garden gifts, chocolates, even cookies, to help their favorite cause. Gifts-Give.com has arrangements with over one hundred suppliers whereby 5% to 10% of all purchases will be donated to the cause selected by the shopper.

To maximize the benefits from this program, organizations can use their newsletters, websites, email and online social networking to spread the word that people can save time and money shopping online, while supporting their cause. Corporate sponsors can participate in “Adopt a Cause” philanthropic team building efforts. This year-round program will generate revenue from all the various holidays, plus birthdays, anniversaries and graduations.

Schools, religious organizations, charities, foundations, professional associations and other nonprofit organizations may request inclusion in the fundraising program by clicking the “Nominate a Nonprofit” button on the Gifts-Give.com home page. With no cost to join the program, this is a great opportunity for nonprofits to boost their fundraising efforts – especially with the holiday season approaching.
